

I am concerned about a proposal to expand LPFM service, which would take priority over FM Translators. I listen to K-LOVE over WKVU, 100.7 FM in Utica, NY. This station serves me as a resident of my local community by being a light to teens and young adults. When they are listening to this family-friendly station, parents need not be concerned about what they are listening to. In a day and age when some of the commercially-oriented stations are broadcasting filth, it's great that there is an alternative where they can be built up, instead of what they are taught at home torn down. The effect on the local community if K-LOVE were to be displaced by an LPFM station would be to deny teens and young adults this valuable resource. K-LOVE is definitely in the public interest, as it is paid for by the contributions of those who listen to it.
